

Dear Jim,

First, congratulations are in order! Your book(s), Disappearance at Mount Sinai, Jane the Grabber, Steam City Pirates & Forevermore, has been accepted into Library Journal's curated SELF-e Select module. This is a nationwide module available on BiblioBoard Library at any local library subscribed to BiblioBoard and participating in SELF-e.

Attached are SELF-e Selection logos for you to use in your marketing to promote that your book is a Library Journal SELF-e selection. These logos can be used within your ebook or on your cover as well as on your website and other marketing materials. Please feel free to do your own press and promotion around your selection as well.

Your book will also be available to readers throughout your state in the Indie State module as a "highlighted selection." Your state's Indie module will launch when we have enough accepted books from your state. Consult the "Where" page on the SELF-e site for more information about upcoming module releases.

Second, we're proud to introduce the SELF-e Ambassador program, a great new initiative for SELF-e Select authors to attend local author events and regional conferences to promote their books and spread the news about SELF-e. You can click on the link above to learn more and apply, or read about what's been accomplished so far by our first SELF-e Ambassador, Victoria Noe.

Finally, we've received a number of complaints concerning a lack of communication and/or activity on our end. If you submitted your book to SELF-e a few months ago and are just hearing back from us, please accept our sincerest apologies. We're working hard to keep everyone informed and to keep the SELF-e and Indie State modules updated on a regular basis. The SELF-e Select module is updated quarterly. If your book is not already in the module, expect to see it in the next update to take place in December. If you have any additional questions or concerns, please contact us at author_relations@biblioboard.com.

Congratulations again on being selected. We hope that you are able to leverage this success to help you accomplish your goals as a writer. Thank you for participating with LJ's SELF-e service and best of luck in your writing endeavors.
